What is uShare.to?

Bringing together clients, agents, brokers, and back-office teams into a fluid workspace uShare.to eliminates the barriers that exist between you and your broader network of customers, remote teams, and partners. It's a single place where you can manage the entire lifecycle of "working together" – ongoing conversations, sharing files, real-time meetings and coordinating schedules.

TRANSACTION

Frictionless

The emphasis in uShare.to is on creating a frictionless experience. You can bring together collaborators across companies in instant workspaces with incredible ease.

Mobile

uShare.to is the ideal companion for professionals who are always on the move, primarily using their mobile phones to keep connected. Whether it is to jump into a video conference, share a file, or have a quick chat, users get the full experience on their mobile phones.

Works with your existing apps

Our technology allows you to easily grant access to almost every major application in your shared spaces. Allow transaction teams access to information stored in tools you're already using.

What problem does uShare.to solve?

While applications for internal company collaboration have reached a high degree of sophistication, professionals use a mish-mash of tools to work with people outside the company or in other offices. uShare.to addresses the problem of “external collaboration”, specifically solving the following:

Broken experience. With no dedicated solution for external collaboration, professionals rely mostly on email, while at other times they fall back on a mix of sharing and conferencing tools leaving you with conversations and information scattered across different tools.

Siloed information. With your agents, brokers, customers, backoffice service providers using their own apps/business tools, information is trapped in silos, with no common place for everyone to share information.

Limited meetings. Meeting tools today only allow for ad-hoc video/audio conferences, but fail to capture the context of what happened before and after the meeting.

Rich video/audio conferencing and screen sharing right in the browser

Chat and share information in persistent workspaces

Access the full power from Android and iOS phones

What are its features?

Instant spaces. Create instant spaces to work together with anyone. Frictionless to create and join. Just invite via email!

Video/Audio conferences. Launch rich video/audio conferences from any smart phone, tablet or desktop.

Screen sharing. Enhance video conferences by sharing screens from desktop and mobile devices.

Social conversations. Engage your collaborators with threaded conversations, comments and activity feeds.

Support for multiple information types. Collaborate on documents, tasks, contacts, calendars, notes and links.

Mobile. Your team on-demand. Dedicated mobile apps ensure that road warriors can always collaborate with your shared space no matter what device they're using.

Who can benefit?

uShare.to is ideal for companies and business divisions with an extensive need to work with people beyond their immediate business group. The following are instances of business processes that may benefit from uShare.to:

Sales Enablement

Engage prospects by sharing collateral, answering questions, & having conferences on the fly

Customer Services & Support

Deliver exceptional services/support by sharing help materials, answering questions, & conducting service calls in one place
